LOVELL H. ROUSSEAU ELECTION SEPTEMBER 5. SATURDAY, AUGUST 18, 1866. The National Union Party. When the war broke out great number who had been life-long members of the Democratic Party, and had consequently opposed the election of Mr. Lincoln, at once took ground in favor of prosecuting the war for the suppression of the revolt, and co-operated subsequently in elections with the Republican Party. They voted at the last Presidential election for Lincoln and Johnson. A very few of these men, at a single bound, took their place in the extreme ranks of the the Jacobins and have remained there ever sine . It is only necessary to mention the name of Dr. B. F. Butler, of Massachus tts, who, we believe, voted for Jefferson Davis as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency about fifty times in the Charleston Convention, to make our meaning and peculiar persons we have now and maintained their own self-respect and the respect of the public and who have a strong hold upon the popular mind. We need only mention such men as Gen John A. Dix and D. S. Dickinson—since dead-of New York, and General John A. L. gan, of Illinois, to illustrate what we mean. The of Illinois, to illustrate what we mean. The class to which these gentlemen belonged included great numbers of private citizens, who deemed it their duty to s stain the war by the r votes and who were not calle thems ves, R p leans Unit a'twith the Democratic Party were as patriotic and as devoted to the Un on as their neigh rs who t k the course jst all ded t But there were others in the otic, and whose opposition to the war an i everyt 1g that looked to the pres rv ti n of the Union was so great and pirsis d that their patri ti m secame at length to se distrusted, and many people did not hesivere rea y traitors to their Government though I ving in the North and beyond the power of coereion on the part of the Confederacy, and who had not the excuse of moral duress thro gh the force of public opinion to compel them to the couse they took. So many persons of this description attached themselves to the Democratic Party in the North as greatly to weaken the power of that anciently irresistible organization. It is quite true that these persons formed no part of the real Union Democracy of the country. But they arrogated to themselves peculiar virtues and superior democratic sanctity; claimed, in fact, to be the only gennine original Democracy, which only made them ridiculous, subjects for jeers and gibes. Their anties were adroitly carried over to the account of the True Democracy y the Repu licans, and thus the Democratie Party proper was compelled to carry the mountain load f the Peace Democracy, alias the Secession Democracy, which was too great for it to bear, and it consequently broke drown; and from being all-powerful, the Democracy of the North became very weak, giving the Rembiteans an easy victory over them. In consequence of the misconduct of a portion of the Party duration of the Party duration of the party of the provided from South Carolina Isage though I could be always because in the days because a limit of the farewell address of Washing great pulladium of our heavy and national independence. Tuion Democrats who swore by Old Hickory, will have nothing more to do either with the Party or the name They are gusted with both. Probably General John A. Logan, of Ill nois, is a fair representative of this class of men. There are great numbers of patri te m n, we think who come under this eategory, and in a sq are out contest between the Repu ican and Democrati Party as now const teted would sustain the former; a d ret they wish the Union fully restored. and many of them, we feel sure, are in favor of the po 'cy of the Pr 'de t. We of the south have the most tenacious adherence to he is not into the left Democrate Penty in consequence of the bad oders which have arisen in and around that party in the way we have jet pointed on the Union in Democracy, on the other hand, don't wish to go over to the Republicans. Nother Party wishes to adopt the name of the other, while multitudes in both wish to custain the President and to put an end to the sectional stress. Now, to save the pride of both, why not, in the very spirit of letting bygones be bygones, mutually agree to bygones be ygones, mutually agree to drop both names, and form themselves into the Great National Union Party?

They really constitute that party in an They really constitute that party in an unoranized state now Those calling themselves Repu licans and those calling themselves Democrats have united in the Philade phia Convention for national objects, to inaugurate a great Union move ment in order completely to restore the Union. Why not take the name of the National Union Party—a name that would correctly designate the purpose had in They really constitute that party in an correctly designate the purpose had in view, and with which Republicans and Democrats could co-operate, and at the same time save their pride. It seems to the third would be a graceful and patriotic compromose, and would give great strength to the movement. Union men in the two old organizations, now existing in name at best, would sacrifice nothing by uniting together for so noble and glorious an object, while the rumps and skeletons that would be left behind of the old parties would contain merely the few persons of peculiar. correctly designate the purpose had in while the rumps and skeletons that would be left behind of the old parties would contain merely the few persons of peculiar characteristics who learn nothing, who for give nobody, and whose notions of political perfection center in and are bounded by their own exclusive and not very elevated views. These skeletons of parties thus denuded of all that could give them vitality and force, would be harmless and powerless to withstand the sweeping tide of the Great National Party that would have the glory of coming to the rescue of and saving an imperiled country at the most critical period perhaps which has ever arisen in its history. We trust the friends of the Union in all parts of the country will reflect upon the subject, and give it the weight to which we think it is fairly entitled in the present juncture of our national affairs. We nrged these views many months ago, and we think that the drift of public opinion is in their favor.

The Choleral.—Dr Bigelow, a noted physician of Boston, says: "From our past observations I do not believe that cholera, should it appear in this country, will be so likely to trouble New England as it is to visit the malarious regions of the South and West."

Among all the many different remedies advertised there are none that act so completely as an antidote to this malarious poison, and which give vigor and strength, than Dr. Roback's Stomach Bitters and Blood Pills. The Blood Pills act directly on the liver, causing it to throw off the deleterious matter, and the Bitters restore the appetite and invigorate the whole system, thoroughly keeping off the terrible scourge, cholera.
